WAR WITH CHINA DEEMED CERTAIN.

German Aggressiveness Precludes an Immediate Settlement.

Formal Declaration of Hostilities Expected Within Sixty Days—Other Powers Likely to Be Involved.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Diplomats here believe that war is certain to come in China within sixty days. They have grounds for their belief and these grounds are definite. They expect that the trouble will start by a formal declaration of war against China by Germany, but they can give no hint about what is likely to happen after that. They are satisfied, however, that when war starts in China, even between China and Germany, it means more than one war.

It is also possible to get hints in Washington that the President ordered the American soldiers to leave Peking, not because of his friendship for China, but because he did not care to involve the American government in this great strife which he believes to be opening in the Far East. With a large American army upon Chinese soil, it would be impossible to have war there without the American government being dragged into it one way or another. As it is, there will be in a few days only a small legation guard of American soldiers left in Peking and these are not apt to cause any friction, no matter what happens.

Secretary Long's order to American warships to proceed to eastern waters is said to be due to knowledge which leads positively to immediate war. It is understood in a general way that these warships will merely take care of American interests, but they have a more definite purpose. The United States still has some distrust of German motives respecting the Philippines, and the administration proposes to have in the vicinity of those islands a fleet large enough to take care of them should German passion overstep itself, as it came near doing once before.

At the German embassy here feeling that war is coming between China and Russia immediately is pretty general. It can be said, also, that the members of the embassy do not believe the war will stop with strife between these two nations.

from Gen. Chaffee relative to conditions in Peking on the 21st inst., was made public today, as follows:
"TAKU, Sept. 25.—Adjutant-General, Washington, Sept. 25.—Number 33. Acknowledge your letter to me. Leave for Tien-Tsin this afternoon. Will be absent several days. Gen. Wilson remains here. Li Hung Chang at Tien-Tsin. Understand that here soon. Have offered him escort; declined. Country very quiet. Good order in Peking."

It is made apparent that our government is again in a waiting attitude, after having made the important move toward a reduction of the American troops in China, announced yesterday. Gen. Chaffee had not received the department's instructions when he sent his message, made public today, but without doubt, he is now. His offer to escort Li Hung Chang was in conformity with the expressed purpose of the State Department to facilitate in every proper manner the journey of the Chinese Viceroy to Peking. Still, it is now regarded as just as well that the offer was declined, and the responsibility for Li's safety left with the Russians.

CONGRUE'S INSTRUCTIONS.
The instruction to Minister Conger to establish relations with Li and Prince Ching is still held up here. It is beginning to appear that the purpose of the delay is to ascertain more clearly the plans of the powers, in whose interest, as well as our own, Mr. Conger was to endeavor to bring about negotiations for a settlement. It is also apparent that there is a disposition on the part of any considerable proportion of them to reject in advance, the well-meant efforts of the United States government to bring about a conference and negotiations, and in which they could participate on equal terms with our own government, with the understanding that the Chinese difficulties, than Mr. Conger's instructions may require revising. Prince Tuan and Prince Chuang Denounced by the Emperor.

SHANGHAI, Sept. 26, 11:10 p.m.—[By Asiatic Cable.] The memorial sent to the throne by Li Hung Chang and the viceroys of the southern and central provinces, asking for the denunciation of Prince Tuan, Prince Chuang and leaders of the Boxer movement, was sent direct to the Emperor and Empress Dowager at Tai Yuan Fu. It was received September 18, but was not opened until the meeting of the Privy Council on September 20. This meeting was attended by the Emperor and Dowager Empress, and by Prince Tuan, Prince Chang, Kang Yi, president of the Ministry of War, who favored the rebels; Gen. Wang Wen Shao and Chao Shu Chio, who is accused of making a report to the Dowager Empress in favor of the Boxers. The Emperor handed the memorial to the council, and, after it had been read, he began a bitter tirade against Tuan and Chuang. He told them they were responsible for all the trouble. They had, he said, only ability to start trouble, and did not care for the consequences. Prince Tuan and Prince Chuang sat together. The Emperor pointed his finger at them and said: "You have caused all the inconvenience and disgrace of the Court and the King being compelled to leave Peking. Now, can't you make suggestion of some way to get out of the trouble?"

The Dowager Empress, who sat beside the Emperor, leaned forward in her seat and pointing her finger directly at Gen. Wang Wen Shao, said: "You are the only intelligent man in the council, and we must depend wholly upon you to suggest plans. You are commanded, in the answer to the present memorial, to show us a way out of the difficulties."

Prince Tuan and Prince Chuang listened angrily to the words of the Emperor and Dowager Empress, but made no reply, and the audience ended. Wang Wen Shao has the record of being the only minister who did not lose his head during the trouble. He is friendly to the Chinese peace commissioners and will not obey the Dowager Empress until he has consulted them.

ROUGH RIDER HAS A ROUGH HOUSE.

Gov. Roosevelt and Party Assaulted by Democrats in Colorado.

Mob of Hired Ruffians Armed With Sticks, Stones and Stale Eggs Tried to Do the Governor Violence.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

DENVER, Sept. 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The fair name of Colorado was disgraced today by a vicious assault made on Gov. Roosevelt of New York while touring the State in furtherance of the Republican national campaign.

At the mining town of Victor, a mob of ruffians, composed of Democratic and Free Silver Republican riffraff, tried to break up the meeting while the Governor was speaking. Being unsuccessful in their efforts, they attacked the Governor and his party as they were leaving the hall to return to the train. Armed with sticks, stones, stale eggs, rotten potatoes and other missiles, they began a cowardly assault, and the Governor would have been roughly handled had it not been for the valiant defense made by a gallant band of Rough Riders who were accompanying the Governor as his escort.

Fortunately the mob was beaten off and the Governor escaped with one blow from a stick, which did him no bodily injury. The man who struck the blow met summary punishment by being knocked down by Postmaster Sullivan of Cripple Creek.

The outrage is denounced by the better element of the Democrats and Free Silverites as well as the Republicans, and will only tend to increase the votes for the Republican standard-bearer.

EXTRAORDINARY EXPERIENCE.

CRIPPLE CREEK (Colo.), Sept. 26.—The meeting at this place tonight concluded a day of speech-making by Gov. Roosevelt, which was not only arduous, but productive of extraordinary experience. Numerous stops were made en route to Cripple Creek. At Victor, nine miles from this city, and one of the most prosperous mining camps in Colorado, the Republican Vice-Presidential candidate was repeatedly interrupted by remarks from some of his hearers, and when returning to his train, missiles of different descriptions were hurled at the party. The attack culminated in an assault upon Gov. Roosevelt by one of the mob, during which he was struck with a flagstaff. The Governor's escort surrounded him and fought off the mob until the special train was reached, which immediately steamed out of the depot for this city. The incident at Victor did not prevent the Governor from filling his engagements here, and tonight a force of detectives armed with Winchester pistols accompanied the train as it started on its journey to Pueblo, it being necessary to pass again through Victor. As far as known here, the party was not molested on its return.

START FROM DENVER.

(A. P. NIGHT REPORT.)
DENVER, Sept. 26.—Gov. Roosevelt resumed his tour of Colorado this morning, after a night's rest at Wolhurst, the country residence of Senator Wolcott. Senator Lodge and wife were also guests of the Colorado Senator during the night. The Roosevelt party left Denver at 9:15 a.m. in a special train on the Denver and Rio Grande. A number of Spanish-American war veterans accompanied the train. The first stop was made at Castle Rock, Colorado Springs was reached at noon, and after stopping there for about an hour, the Governor proceeded to the Cripple Creek district, where a great demonstration in his honor had been planned.

AT COLORADO CITY.

(A. P. NIGHT REPORT.)
CRIPPLE CREEK (Colo.), Sept. 26.—The leaving Colorado Springs the special Roosevelt train was split into two sections the first stop thereafter being at Colorado City. The entire population appeared to see the New York Governor and shake his hand. Mantion was the next stop. A large crowd was assembled here to listen to the five-minute talk of the campaigner. There were many ladies with flags and flowers, which were liberally bestowed on the travelers. The train then moved on to Divide, where there was a pause. A call was also made at Gillette and Independence.

UNIQUE DEMONSTRATION.

At Victor, a few miles from Cripple Creek, among the miners, a most unique demonstrative crowd assembled. In this place four years ago, twenty seven McKinley votes were cast. At present a McKinley and Roosevelt Club has been formed, now numbering 550 members, with the numbers increasing. Gov. Roosevelt spoke at the Armory Hall, which was filled. There were many Republicans in the audience, but there were also apparently many Democrats, who made themselves manifest by noisy demonstrations. Gov. Roosevelt said: "In my State the man who was put on the Committee on Platform to draw up an anti-trust platform at the Kansas City convention had at that time his pockets stuffed with ice-cream sticks. The Democratic leader in New York, Richard Croker, upon whom you hang your only hope, and it is a mighty slim hope, too, was another great stickholder, and if, in fact, you were to read through the list of stockholders in that trust, it would sound like reading the roll of the members of Tammany Hall."

A voice cried out: "What about the rotten beef?"

The Governor replied: "I ate it, but you will never hear me again. It is to get hit with a bullet, or within five miles of it."

Gov. Roosevelt succeeded in finishing his remarks, though there was an evident intention among those present that he should not do so.

GOVERNOR ASSAULTED.

When the Governor left the hall with his party to go toward the train, he was surrounded by a company of Rough Riders, commanded by Sherman Ball, one of his own soldiers in the Spanish war. He was also accompanied by Gen. Curtis Guild, Jr., of Boston, Hon. John Proctor Clark of New York, Hon. Irving Hale of Colorado, United States Senator Wolcott, Hon. Frank Gowdy, candidate for Governor of Colorado, and several others. Gov. Roosevelt and his party were about, when a crowd of boys and men began throwing rocks and shouting for Bryan. The Rough Riders closed in around the Governor to protect him from assault by the mob.

One man made a personal attack upon Gov. Roosevelt, and succeeded in striking him in the head with a stick. The assault was immediately knocked down by Daniel M. Sullivan, postmaster of Cripple Creek. A rush was then made by the mob to drag the mounted men in khaki uniforms from their horses. The men on foot, also in khaki, closed around the Governor, making a wedge which pushed through the crowd, and they finally succeeded in gaining the train, which was surrounded by the mob. By this time there were probably 1000 or 1500 excited people in the vicinity, and fistfights were exchanged on all sides. Many of the mob were armed with sticks and clubs, some with rotten potatoes, stale eggs and lemons.

HIRING RUFFIANS.

The entire party regained the train, however without serious injury, and it pulled out of the place with the Rough Riders on the rear platform. The incident was the only one of violence that has been reported during the progress of the trip, and it is reported by Postmaster Sullivan of Cripple Creek and others that the trouble was occasioned by a small body of ruffians who had been organized and paid for the purpose of breaking up the meeting. The persons engaged in this attempt were few in number, but very violent in their attack.

GOV. ROOSEVELT, WHILE REGRETTING THE OCCURRENCE, WAS NOT DISTURBED BY THE INCIDENT, AND WAS READY TO PROCEED WITH HIS SPEECHES IN CRIPPLE CREEK.

SPEECHES AT CRIPPLE CREEK.

Gov. Roosevelt spoke at three meetings in this city this evening, all of which were indoor meetings, and large, orderly and appreciative. In addition to Gov. Roosevelt, Senators Wolcott and Lodge, Hon. John Proctor Clark, Gen. Curtis Guild, Jr., and several members of the Republican State ticket made addresses.

THE SPEECHES OF GOV. ROOSEVELT COVERED THE GROUND GONE OVER IN HIS EFFORTS AT OTHER PLACES, AND WERE DIRECTED SOLELY TO MILITARISM, IMPERIALISM AND EXPANSION.

THE MEETING TOMORROW NIGHT WILL BE AT PUEBLO. EIGHT SPEECHES ARE SCHEDULED FOR TOMORROW.

SEVERAL DETECTIVES WITH WINCHESTERS GUARD THE TRAIN.

TEDDY'S TRAIN GUARDED.

(A. P. NIGHT REPORT.)
DENVER, Sept. 26.—The following message has been received in this city: "The Roosevelt train will pass through Victor tonight on its journey to Pueblo. Several detectives with Winchester guard the train."

BRYAN DOUBTS IT.

(A. P. NIGHT REPORT.)
NEBRASKA CITY (Nebr.), Sept. 26.—Being shown a telegram to the effect that Theodore Roosevelt was assaulted at Victor, Colo., by a band of hired ruffians tonight, Mr. Bryan wrote the following statement: "From what I know of the people of Colorado, I am not willing to believe, without further evidence, that they denied Mr. Roosevelt or to any one else a fair hearing. If it proves true that he was mobbed or in any way interfered with, I am sure that it was not the work of any political organization. There can be no justification for a resort to violence in this country, and those who resort to it injure the cause which they represent."

AN ACT OF COURTESY.

(A. P. NIGHT REPORT.)
LINCOLN (Nebr.), Sept. 26.—Before leaving for Nebraska City this evening Mr. Bryan in a note to the press requested that his political friends remove his pictures from the windows on October 2, as a matter of courtesy to

From that time on every spare hour the sergeant had from duty was spent in the company of Felicia. Felicia lived with her dusky mother, her brother being in the Philippine reserves. She was given no chance to put a Mauser bullet into the sergeant or any of his comrades. Although Briggs was not a white black man, Felicia's mother, supposing her to be a servant, such as (as thick as flies in the houses of the natives) were to be seen, Felicia referred to her as "mi madre," and then he knew; but by that time the color of her face was so dark she might have been as vari-gated as a circus poster without affecting the least of the respect and thought for Felicia only. Her brother heard of what was going on and sent her word of his disapproval for having anything to do with with the "malo Americano," but it had no effect whatever. Finally he sent her the best of his Mauser, and she sent him away, and on his return were the three letters of the Katipnans, warning him to be careful of her goodness, for she knew of the secret slash of the bolo from the darkness had often killed her brother. He was told that her in-tento would be waylaid and killed.
He told him of his fears, and she pleased to meet a dozen of the Katipnans in a little friendly discussion of the future of the Philippines on the floor where they would live when he was through with them. He drew her still closer to him, and she said she would not resist, and the matter was not forgotten.
Thus it went on for a month, and then—

One night, after the patrol had seen everybody off the street and alone in the darkness, the sergeant's room adjoining the stair landing, the second floor with Felicia, who was sitting up, waiting for him, in the kitchen and the Muchacho Simon was asleep, according to the invariable custom of Philip, he came in, and he was lying on the landing half way down the stairs. Suddenly there came a thumping sound, and he was told to come from the second floor projected a little distance over the street, with order for him to look down and who was at the door. A string ran from the latch on the inside of the door, and he saw the shadow of the person knocking for admittance been inspected and approved, the sergeant was told to go in, and and the visitor admitted, to meet the head of the "airs by the graceful bodies of the Katipnans, who had been done, but when Felicia tiptoed
the aperture and looked down upon
her brother, she was told to go in,
punas, she refrained from pulling the string. Instead she put her finger on the door, and the sergeant, who sergeant, and stood still, waiting to what the unwelcome visitors would the door being closed, the sergeant to force admittance, for fear of attracting the attention of the street "airs." He was told to go in, and he and inquiring into particulars attended.

Fortunately for the plans the muchacho was awakened by the knocking, an unusual circumstance not to be counted upon, and he soon heard the door being opened, and he was side. He was loyal to Felicia, and the terrible vengeance of the Katipnans, he was told to go in, and he opened the door. This was too much for his loyalty or courage, and he stepped back, and he was told to ing no noise on the stone floor of the basement. It was not until the head of the Katipnans, who had been done, but when Felicia tiptoed
the aperture and looked down upon
her brother, she was told to go in,
punas, she refrained from pulling the
string. Instead she put her finger
on the door, and the sergeant, who

With a shriek of "No, Simon, no!" he rushed out of her room to the head of the Katipnans, who had bolos in their hands, were rapidly

Event in John Brown's Daughter's Life.

Wedded Fifty Years Ago Yesterday.

Gardener Dying in a Shack, Result of an Accident—Happy Reunion.

PASADENA, Sept. 26.—[Regular Correspondence.] John Brown's daughter, who lived a life of devotedness to the cause of the oppressed, was married yesterday at her home in Pasadena, where she has resided since the death of her husband, who was killed in the rebellion.

The wedding ceremony was performed by Rev. J. W. Brown, who is the father of the bride. The bride is now Mrs. J. W. Brown. The ceremony was a simple one, and was attended by a large number of friends.
